AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE

Can we meet you, Ma?

Hi everyone! My name is Oluwakemi Ovie-Okuro. I'm married to Ovie Okuro, and we've been married for 17 years now, blessed with lovely kids and we call them "The E Guys". I am a banker with 20 years of banking experience and it's been awesome. You know doing what you love doing and I bless God for that.

My Background

I was born into a Muslim family and I got converted in my final year in the higher institution and that was in April 2002. I gave my life to Christ back then and that has shaped me. Meeting with Christ in 2002 is a decision I knew I wouldn't have taken alone. It has shaped me to have a body full of light. I can stand up to say no to certain things that have probably been going on around me, it has helped me to have a mouth where I feel I don't have a say, it has helped me to have boldness and confidence as a woman and see that I can't be talked down or shut down. So meeting Christ has taken me many steps above where I would have been if I had not met Him. It's been an awesome journey meeting Jesus and I bless God for that. Thank you!

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

What are some important things that any young person who wants to succeed should take note of in their journey?

Success is a concept that's different for every person. i.e. individual based. For some, success is having a great career, another might be to make someone happy, and another might be to have a good marriage or a family or ministry. Success is something everyone strives to achieve. One similar thing with all these spheres or sides to success is called "RESULT". The result is what speaks of what just happened. That is what underscores or justifies the much-talked-about success.

So, in the journey to success, there are a few things any young person aiming to be successful should note. These few things have shaped and helped in my walk and work in life even though I am still learning through the ropes to the topmost of success.

1. Never join the wagon of those who say they will come back to meet God; you might never return to see Him. So, Start that journey with God, don't leave God behind.
2. Note your Vision. Write it down and understand what you want out of life. i.e., Hab 2:2 (AMP) "Write the vision and engrave it plainly on [clay] tablets So that the one who reads it will run." Your vision must be clear and plain to you. Your vision is where you are headed, and what the future looks like. It is what pushes or propels you into a DOING through a mission. Vision keeps you focused and paints a picture of success.
3. Believe in yourself - if you fail to believe in yourself, no one else will. Do not underestimate your capabilities.

KINGDOM STARS SPOTLIGHT

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

4. Value-tag your vision- you must have guiding principles for your life. This will help shape you as you journey into the world of success or otherwise. Note that as a mirror reflects the image, so you are a reflection of your value and a vision without value is like a destiny without discipline

5. Be committed and take actionable steps towards the actualization of your vision.

There are two types of people in the world:

- a. Those who wish and yearn/desire.
- b. Those who wish, commit, and achieve.

The difference between these two people is COMMITMENT. Your level of commitment to your goal or vision, will determine your level of success.

There are two types of people in the world.
So do it afraid, do it believing,

JUST TAKE THAT STEP COMMITTEDLY.

6. Educate yourself, commit to learning, be willing to research.

7. Celebrate your little wins and big achievements. Pat yourself for those little milestones that will match up to the big pictures.

8. Innovate and challenge the status quo. - don't be stereotypic in your ways of doing things. Be creative, find better ways of doing things, add value. Don't be mediocre.

9. Learn from experts, have coaches to teach you. - study the lives of other successful people in the realm you are striving to achieve success.

10. Master how to say No. Our culture undervalues the importance of saying-

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

'NO'. It can be uncomfortable. If you listen to interviews with successful people, you'll probably hear them talk about turning down great opportunities they knew weren't right for them. Learning how to say no is an essential key to success in life. Successful people do say no. Saying no means knowing yourself, and your boundaries, and being able to determine what is worth your time and energy. Saying no to the wrong thing leaves space to say yes to the right thing. It leaves room for the right opportunity.

11. Investing in relationships, and networking with like-minds- this is quite valuable. People are made to be connected to a community. The benefits of being in a safe and encouraging community go beyond success in any one area of life.

How has your relationship with God impacted your life?

My relationship with God has so many impacts on my life. Like I said earlier on, I was born into a Muslim family, so I was confused. I was more like somebody who had no love or was shown love by someone. So, my relationship with Christ had a love impact on me, It has had a compassionate impact on me. It has made me have an absolute dependency on him for any time that I need help. It has impacted my life to be satisfied with him. It has impacted my life to be content with what I have at the time.

It has impacted my life to be peaceful wherever I find myself and to have rest in situations no matter how uproar such situations may be. So, it impacted me so much that I have love, that has propelled me to do so many things that I know can only be by the hand of God, by the connection-that I have with him which is one of the reasons why we have Estery conceived and birthed.

Estery Life Connect is a foundation that God is running. It was conceived and birthed on the platform of relationship, on the platform of love shown by God to me, it was birthed on the platform of grace, it was birthed on the platform of God given to me. Estery Life Connect Foundation was birthed with the vision to see to the saving of women in odd jobs, skilling them, empowering them with skills that they thought they wouldn't be able to achieve, making them believe they can have anything they want to have by doing something valuable, with their heads and their minds and their brains rather than selling themselves.

It was born on the relationship with Christ. Estery Life Connect also seeks after children who are in environments that feel children shouldn't go to school or children shouldn't have basic needs to make their education come to fruition. So, it all birthed out of these because growing up as a child, getting a good education wasn't that smooth, it wasn't palatable for me and my siblings. Having a deep relationship with him has birthed all of this because until He shows you what He is taking you out of, until He shows you what is out before you, you won't really be able to run.

Seeing all these things that I have seen, seeing Him pictured before me and these are all seen on the platform of having a relationship with God.

It has birthed so many things around me that I can't quantify and this has really taken so many people out of the streets and made so many children go back to school, have education. So, I can say my relationship with God has taken me farther than I thought my own personal self can carry. Thank you.

How have you been able to balance all your responsibilities?

Wow! This is quite a question. Okay, as a banker balancing my work and family- yes it can be challenging and doubting but it's doable, even my 17 years of marriage and 20 years of being in the career i am is one thing I think one really needs to balance so that- you know without balance, without finding balance in the marriage and the career one might likely be left feeling overwhelmed or feeling overworked or underappreciated so with this in mind I think for me what I have or what we've been able to do that has really worked for us number is communication; communication has really helped us a great deal, communicating clearly; when I'm going to be late or when my husband is going to be late or when somethings are tasky or going to be a challenge (kind of) and it might one way other affect one thing that had been planned. So, communicating with one another has really helped to really maneuver things and to respect each other if I can say it that way.

One thing that has also helped us is prioritizing my task and responsibilities, so what I do most time is to ensure that I base my task in order of importance and according to their deadlines so that way, whether in the home front or at the office, if my task is well outlined and prioritized each one in the different blocks of where they're supposed to be things runs smoothly. Another thing that I do is delegation, I do lots and lots of delegations. As a-career woman there are so many things that home fronts are calling for and if we're also looking for growth in the career also there are so many things that'll also be calling for your attention so the place of delegation cannot be overlooked, so I delegate quite a lot. For me delegation has helped me in balancing my responsibilities in the two fields.

Additionally, I plan ahead. I don't like crash working so my work is planned ahead; what I want to do within the week I already have them planned out and so that it doesn't affect my home front in any way. And also, I hire! I pay for some things to be done. If you want or have a thorough work life balance that is not going to be affecting your home you have to pay for some things. I hire, I can't do everything and I'm not given to probably having house help, I've never used them before. So what I do is I pay, I pay to get some things done, pay to get the house cleaned up, pay to get so many things. Maybe you want to get a babysitter for the children when you're not going to be around and maybe they've not started school, so paying for some things that can be paid for also is another thing that has helped me in balancing things.

And lastly, we have family time set out so that can't be joked with, I don't joke with my family time. My family time is 100% core so it can't be joked with. So, this really has helped me in balancing things within the sphere of my marriage and within the sphere of career so far. Thank you!

What are your thoughts on soul winning and how can we as a child of God become more engaged in the vineyard of God?

KINGDOM STARS SPOTLIGHT

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

I will say that soul winning is core for any child of God, after salvation is salvation, after your life is won by Christ or taken over by Christ, I think the next thing is for you is also to go out there and tell somebody about what Christ has done for you.

I started in my background saying that I was born into a Muslim family, getting into this kingdom is the pure hand work of God as prayed by someone. I don't know who the person is, but I know that somebody prayed for me to be a Winner. In the month of April 2002 while i was in my final year, haven prayed as a Muslim the previous night, haven prayed as a Muslim the Sunday morning and standing alone just outside the house, I heard a voice just like somebody standing beside me saying that "my daughter get down to Winners I want to talk with you". I looked around. I didn't really see anybody to talk to me and the closest person to me was far away. I had to walk down to the guy and said "were you calling?" he said no. I went back to where I was standing and I still heard this voice 3 times "get down to winners I want to talk to you" this was April 2002 and I know that somebody must have been praying for me, who that was I don't know and that was how I became a Christian. I looked for a Winners Church around me back then, I gave my life to Christ and you know, the rest is history. My life has never been the same. So the same thing is expected of me having been saved, the same thing is expected of me to go out there and get another person that is in the dungeon to bring them out.

The Bible says I am the way the truth and the life no man come to me except through me, no man sees the father except through me so no man comes to father except through Jesus and I am a representative of him here, you are a representative of him, every child of God is a representative of Christ that is centered here as an ambassador to tell another person about Christ. So, it's a core assignment, this move now is as ordained by Christ, the soul-winning move is ending time call, so it is to the benefit of everyone to dive in and run into the call. So as a child of God, anything and everything that you have must be used in engaging this drive whether your idea, your creativity, your money, or anything that you have that you know can bring in souls to use them. Your social media space is an avenue, use it to win souls for Christ. Your money, use it to win souls for Christ, anything that you have that can bring souls into Christ is expected of us to be used to bring in people into the vineyard.

KINGDOM STARS SPOTLIGHT

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

As I said, using our social media space, we can partner with people. Lately God laid into my heart to do pictorial evangelism. I'm not too much into graphics even though we use some of it at work, but it won't be as much as what will be needed so what will I need to do? I called one of the brothers in the church who I know is into it and voila! they started calling on one person and the other pulling strings and putting heads together trying to see how lives can be saved, how suicidal thoughts can be taken away from the minds of people, and how they can be driven into the vineyard of God. So whatever thing that you have at your disposal is an instrument God has laid into your hand at that particular time to be used to bring souls into the vineyard.

So, we must engage in the best way we can, prayerfully even if it is 30 minutes like we've been through, 30 minutes, 10 minutes, anybody, list out the names of the people that you know need to give their life to Christ, anoint their names, pray with them, pray for them, send them words. I have Muslim friends that I send what I call "The Word" every day- I use one of the social media spaces to send it across. One of my Muslim friends would tell me "Kemi stop sending me this" I said, well you'll have to remove me from your friend fold because I'm sending it out as a broadcast. So, anything that you have at your disposal, use it to evangelize, use it to call people in. You might think it's not sinking. It is not one day that it will happen, say it today, say it tomorrow, say it next time, say it another time before you know everything that you do that is being sown as seed will turn into a harvest one day. Thank you!

KINGDOM STARS SPOTLIGHT

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH MRS OVIE continues...

Closing thoughts?

I want to appreciate the leadership, I want to appreciate the members of the media team of Living Faith Church Ikorodu for this opportunity that was given to me so far.

In closing, I will say, that in anything you do make an impact, wherever you find yourself be impactful, let your presence be felt, and let your absence be known. In anywhere you find yourself make Christ known, stand for Christ, let there be no doubt as to whether you're a Christian, and be known. Add value and create value in what you do, make an impact, make your life count, and let your coming to this world count as much as want us to be for him forever.

Thank you so much!

SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE

By David & Faith Oyedepo

REVIEWED BY SEBASTINE SYLVIA B.

Marriage is the legal union of a man and woman as husband and wife, it is the foundation for the family because until it is in place, there can be no family. A family is a social group in a society consisting of a man and a woman and their offspring.

Marriage is meant to be exciting. If yours has lost its excitement, God can impart His Joy and goodness into it once again. He can make something special out of your home.

My greatest heart's desire for you as you read this book and apply the principles therein is that your home will come alive and become full of Joy, laughter, and excitement, as mine is.

The Covenant of Marriage

1. Faith

Marriage is a covenant relationship. It is not just the coming together of a man and woman for procreation. Although having children is one of the blessings of marriage, marriage means much more than that. Some other people think Marriage is merely cohabiting with someone of the opposite sex. Again this perception is wrong, as Marriage goes beyond that. Marriage is a covenant. God is a God of covenant.

All through the scriptures, we see God in covenant relationships with different people

2. Abraham

God made a covenant with Abraham in Genesis chapter 17. Although Abraham died thousands of years ago, the covenant God made with him then is still in force today.

Interestingly we all are proud to be called children of Abraham today, even though we never met him in person. The covenant God cut with Abraham was sealed in blood, and the sign was circumcision.

3. Noah

God again cut a covenant with Noah in Genesis Chapter 8, and Noah took off all the clean beasts and sacrificed them, to seal up the covenant after which God put the rainbow in the sky, as a sign of the immutability of the covenant.

4. Jesus Christ

God kept cutting covenant with His people until Jesus, the only begotten of the Father, came and enacted a new covenant (testament) in His blood.

What is Covenant?

A covenant is a bond. It is also a formal sealed agreement or contract with witnesses. God is the principal witness, while the people present are the cloud of witness.

A covenant is quite different from a promise. A promise is a declaration

SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE

By David & Faith Oyedepo

assuring that one will or will not do something; a vow, there are no conditions attached to it, unlike the covenant.

The Covenant of marriage is two-sided.

It is both horizontal and vertical. It is horizontal because it is between the man and his wife.

Both of them must understand and obey the terms of the covenant.

The marriage covenant is also vertical in nature because it is between God and man (husband and wife). God's own side of the covenant is constant and settled.

God is not more faithful in one marriage than another, He is no respecter of person, what he does for one, He will do for another (Acts 10:34) The marriage covenant only comes into force when you are legally joined together with your wife or husband in marriage.

And because it is a covenant, you are expected to keep and not break it. You are made in God's image, and He is faithful to His covenant, He never breaks them.

Characteristics of the Marriage Covenant

1. It is written: A marriage Covenant is a formal declaration usually written and having witnesses. There is also a need for you to put your commitment down in writing, by having a marriage certificate, which makes it legally binding.

To the woman, let me say this: if you are married and do not have a marriage certificate to prove that you are legally married, make sure you get one, as this will enable you to enter into a proper covenant.

2. It should not be broken: The marriage covenant should not be broken. God is a covenant keeper, not a covenant breaker. As His children, therefore husband and wife should be covenantkeepers, not covenant breakers.

3. Exchange of gifts: Another feature that should be in place in a marriage is the Exchange of gifts. We see an example of this in the covenant between God and Abraham. God asked Abraham for Isaac, and Abraham did not hesitate, neither did he bother about what Sarah was going to say, nor our Isaac's opinion.

He knew he was in a covenant relationship with God and didn't want to break it. And because the covenant involves the exchange of gifts, he was willing to offer Isaac as a sacrifice to God (Genesis 22)

SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE

By David & Faith Oyedepo

4. It has a seal: A covenant is usually sealed with blood and has a token or sign. Noah made a covenant with God in Genesis 8:20 and offered burnt offerings unto Him. God on His part also set a bow as a token of the covenant (Genesis 9:13)

5. It transcends Generations: Once a man and woman get married, history is made, and they can never change that lineage. Generations after them will keep connecting them with that lineage whenever a reference is being made about them.

Men and women in a marriage covenant are expected to observe and apply the above characteristics so that their home will last and be the heaven it was created to be.

God's Interest In the Family: The family unit is currently facing one of its greatest attacks more than any other period in history. And more than ever before, the family needs the help of God from the troubles, woes, and calamities that befall it daily.

We have sought help from men-psychiatrists, traditional and political leaders, etc...only to find out that the help man claims to render is grossly inadequate.

God's help is always available to us. God's help can always reach you, no matter in what area of family life you desire. I believe it is coming your way right now via this book.

God's Involvements in the family: In the story of creation, everything God spoke into existence, He saw. But when it came to the issue of marriage, He didn't just speak it into existence, He was practically involved in instituting it. God's whole intention for instituting marriage is to take shame away from the life of man.

God showed His interest in marriage by personally fashioning the woman and delivering her to her husband.

Conclusion:

Therefore to enjoy God's best in your home, you must make Him the center of your home.

You must be ready to give Him a priority, recognizing Him as the foundation for a successful marriage.

THE WOMAN

BY OMOTOLA JACOB

First crafted from the original creature,
She was meant to be his helpmeet, soothing his needs with her equally enchanting nature.
Swiftly, she carries every imagination from the depth of an alluring brochure
Running through every pain with a consistent mission.
Because, even without a breakthrough, she is strong enough to make it through.
Even without a see-through, she finds every way to make it build.

Though feeble, she had been a mother to many.
Without a single guide, she carefully carried generations to plenty.

Her wonder could be a doubt to many,
Her wisdom will be poured in as a template to any.
Through the tears emancipating from her eyes, she paved her way to the toughest

...and paved her way to the strongest.

Because the roughest path created the stars she was designed to be.
To the stars that are forever meant to shine
Cheers to the blessing of womanhood.

A blessing she has been and forever will be.

SIMPLE WAYS TO RELIEVE STRESS

By David Chidinma

Stress has become a daily lifestyle for almost everyone today, and sadly so. This can have very negative consequences on one's health. Studies have even proven that too much stress is a major cause of obesity and a bulging midsection. So what do we do? Sit at home all day to avoid being stressed out? Definitely not. Here are 9 simple ways to relieve stress:

1. SLEEP WELL.

A good sleep is often what we need to relieve our body of its accumulated stress. Experts recommend 7-8 hours of sleep per night, as this makes you fully refreshed, makes your brain sharper during the day, and improves your mood, thereby making you less prone to being stressed out.

2. MEDITATION.

Bringing your body and mind to a deep rest while remaining conscious is one very healthy practice that can greatly alleviate stress. Meditation requires a quiet and peaceful atmosphere, thereby bringing tranquility to your soul and relieving you of stress.

3. EXERCISE REGULARLY.

It might sound ironic but putting our body through purposeful physical stress can be very helpful in relieving mental stress. Studies have shown that people who do stressful office jobs during the day and hit the gym later in the evening tend to feel more relaxed and relieved than those who don't.

It could be a few minutes of jogging around the neighborhood, a few minutes of jumping ropes, or whatever exercise you find suitable.

It also improves the quality of your sleep, making you more relaxed the next day. Moreover, the more fit you look, the more confident you are in yourself, and the less stressed you feel.

4. SMILE/LAUGH MORE OFTEN.

Ever heard the saying "Laughter is the best medicine"? Well, it holds, especially in this case. Laughter releases happy enzymes that lift your mood and leave you feeling good, relieving your mind of any form of mental stress.

Always try to see things from a bright perspective; find humor in things that might not necessarily be funny; create your happiness. It all boils down to one thing: the happier you are, the more productive you will be.

5. EAT HEALTHY.

Some foods, junk especially, never seem to satisfy you. On the contrary, they increase your cravings, spike up your insulin and blood sugar levels, and can lead to a variety of health problems that leave you worried and stressed.

Eat healthy food, particularly fruits and vegetables, as these are very good for one's health and would give you fewer things to worry about.

6. SPEND TIME WITH YOUR LOVED ONES.

Being around people you love and who love and cherish you in return can have very wonderful effects on one's mental health. It gives you a feeling of security and a sense of belonging. Make time to spend with your family and loved ones. Travel with them, go on a picnic together, go see a movie: this would create happy feelings and memories and in turn, greatly relieve you of physical and mental stress.

7. LISTEN TO MUSIC.

Studies have shown that listening to one's favorite music is very helpful when dealing with stress. It makes the mind relaxed and soothes the soul. People who experience this feeling the most are those whose choice of music falls into the category of blues, slow songs, and country music. But generally, listening to your favorite kind of music would do the magic and help alleviate stress.

8. AROMATHERAPY.

This is the use of selected scents and fragrances in lotions and inhalants, in an attempt to improve one's mood and health. Some scents have been shown to have a mood-improving effect on people when inhaled

Scents like Sandalwood, rose, orange, frankincense, and lavender can really do wonders for one's mood and overall mental health.

One can purchase these fragrances in spray bottles and spray them all over the room before going to bed, or in the office when the feeling of mental stress comes nagging, or even in the car while driving.

9. AVOID PROCRASTINATION.

Pushing off today's task till tomorrow is like a one-way ticket to stress land, if there's anything like that. Tomorrow has its problems and trying to deal with two day's worth of problems in one day will stress you out.

Avoid procrastinating. Do what needs to be done when it needs to be done. A good way to ensure this is to make a to-do list and follow through with it. Alarms and reminders would also be very helpful in helping one avoid procrastination and stress in general.

As the saying goes, wisdom is the application of the right knowledge. Give these healthy tips a shot and watch your stress levels greatly reduce.

I remain your favorite fitness and lifestyle coach (CHEE-FITNESS), and till we meet again in another interesting article, keep on keeping on.

5 Reasons Why Encouraging Teenagers to Learn Tech Skills is Crucial

By
Emmanuel AnuOluwatomiwa

In today's fast-paced world, the importance of technology skills cannot be overemphasized, especially for our teenagers. Just like the industrial age brought about the need for mechanical skills, the information age demands that we equip our young ones with tech skills. Here are five compelling reasons why encouraging teenagers to learn tech skills is crucial:

Empowerment for the Future

In Nigeria, as in many parts of the world, technology is shaping the future job landscape. From software development to digital marketing, tech skills are in high demand. By learning these skills early, teenagers set themselves up for success in a digitally driven-economy.

Imagine a teenager who can code creating a website for a local business in Lagos, connecting them to a global market. That's the power of tech skills.

Problem-Solving Abilities

Tech education fosters critical thinking and problem-solving skills. In a world where challenges are diverse and complex, teenagers with tech skills can analyze problems and develop innovative solutions.

Consider a teenager in our church developing a mobile app to address traffic congestion issues in the city of Lagos. This not only solves a local problem but also showcases the impact of tech skills in community development.

Global Connectivity

Technology breaks down geographical barriers. With tech skills, teenagers can collaborate with peers worldwide, gaining exposure to diverse perspectives and expanding their horizons. Think of a teenager in Nigeria participating in an online coding competition with participants from different countries. This experience not only enhances their technical abilities but, also promotes global understanding and cooperation.

Entrepreneurial Opportunities

The digital age has democratized entrepreneurship. Teenagers with tech skills can create and launch their own digital products or services, becoming Young entrepreneurs and contributors to economic growth.

Imagine a teenager in Ikorodu developing a mobile game that gains popularity globally, generating income and fostering a spirit of innovation and entrepreneurship.

Adaptability and Resilience

Technology evolves rapidly, requiring individuals to adapt and learn continuously. By engaging in tech education, teenagers develop adaptability, resilience, and a growth mindset, essential qualities for success in today's dynamic world.

In conclusion, encouraging teenagers to learn tech skills is not just about preparing them for the future job market but also equipping them with essential life skills. Embracing the opportunities of the information age places our teenagers at a significant advantage, ensuring they can contribute meaningfully to society and achieve their fullest potential.

I suggest you refer to previous publications on tech skills your teenagers can learn.

DEAR MOTHERS

By Oyinloluwa Yakubu

A poetic rendition in celebration of our mothers

Even though it seems like you are never enough
Or that your chores are ever tough
When you felt like giving up
Because our endless night cries woke you up
The countless diapers you changed
Still, getting 'leave me alone!' in exchange
Remember when you tried to discipline us
And told us 'Just take a pause'
Or tried to shield our dreams
From life's cruel remarks
But upon all means
You got cruel barks back
The times we disobeyed to your commands
But never laid off our demands
The times we were emotional
You never called our feelings 'irrational'
You never expressed your pains
But work hard come sun, come rain
When we showed our rebellious layers
Your knees got tired of endless prayers

Sometimes we acted ungrateful
But you were never regretful
Your advices against our devices
We will forever be grateful
Forgive us for all we put you through
We love you
And adore you
We look up to you
Asking what to do
You're the best nothing less
Most important woman
To me better than ten thousand a man
With you, we're never forgotten
It's always 'my children whom I have begotten'

Thank you mothers out here

We know you'll remain ever near

▶ IN CELEBRATION OF OUR MOTHERS

A close-up photograph of several cupcakes. Each cupcake has a golden-brown base and is topped with a smooth, light pink frosting. The frosting is decorated with small, heart-shaped sprinkles in white, light pink, and dark pink. The cupcakes are arranged in a cluster, with some in the foreground and others slightly out of focus in the background.

Happy Birthday to a gem born in the month of sunshine and smiles! May your days be as bright as the June sun and your nights as clear as the midsummer sky. Wishing you joy that blooms like summer flowers and moments as sweet as the season's first fruit. Enjoy your special day!
